Latin American Studies Program

Latin American Studies Major Status Sheet

Twelve semester courses are required to complete the LAST major. There are two ways to get the twelve courses: 6 in LAST and 6 in a department of concentration (e.g., History, Government, Spanish), or 7 in LAST and 5 in a department of concentration. Of these twelve courses, three are mandatory: LAST 200 (Colonialism and Its Consequences), LAST 226 (Modern Latin American Literature and Civilization), and LAST 245 (Survey of Latin American History). Each of these mandatory courses must be taken at Wesleyan. One additional LAST-crosslisted social science course is also mandatory. It too must be taken at Wesleyan. To graduate as a LAST major, a student must also satisfy the LAST research requirement by writing a senior thesis, an essay, or a paper that is centrally concerned with Latin America and is (a) on a topic of the major's own choosing, (b) 20+ pages in length, and (c) graded B- or better.
